

MANY SERVICES... ONE LOCATION.

Navigators to help connect with needed services, including safety planning, public benefits, housing and other needs.

Counselors and therapists to support adults and children dealing with the traumatic aftermath of violence.

Economic empowerment services to help with budgeting, credit repair, and other financial issues. Referrals to job training and educational programs.

Lawyers to advise with matters of housing, orders of protection, child support, custody, visitation, immigration, and divorce.

Specialized prosecutors and law enforcement.

On-site child care while receiving services.

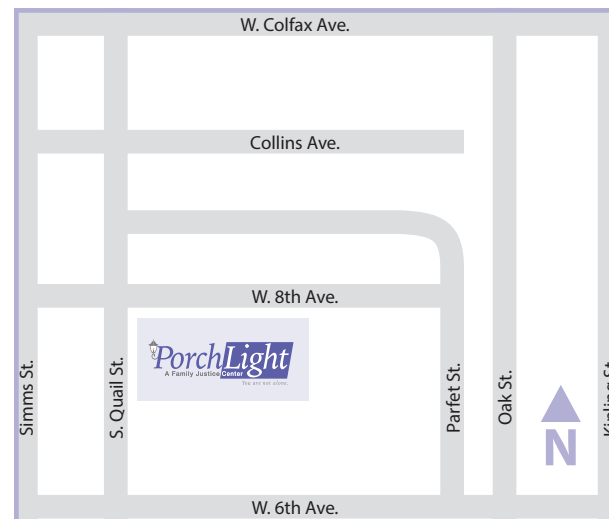

At PorchLight, you are not alone.

The Family Justice Center is the gateway to a network of services designed to reduce violence. As we reduce the occurrence of violence, we enhance public safety, help reduce homicide rates, unite communities in support of victims and survivors, and increase effectiveness of timely services. We are committed to breaking the cycle of violence and keeping our community safe.

Please visit www.porchlightfjc.org to learn:

- How to volunteer.
- How to donate.
- How to access services for yourself or someone in need.

PorchLight, a Family Justice Center

11100 W. 8th Ave., Suite 200, Lakewood, CO 80215
303-271-6100 • www.porchlightfjc.org

A graphic featuring a large yellow spotlight that shines down from the top of the page onto a building entrance. The building has a large arched window above the entrance. The background is a dark blue grid pattern. The PorchLight logo is positioned at the bottom of the spotlight beam.

Our mission is to bring together essential services for victims, survivors and their children to create a positive pathway forward, and to foster public safety.

PorchLight
A Family Justice Center
You are not alone.

11100 W. 8th Ave., Suite 200, Lakewood, CO 80215

www.porchlightfjc.org
303-271-6100

Hours: 8:30 a.m.– 4:30 p.m.

Walk-ins encouraged. No appointment necessary.

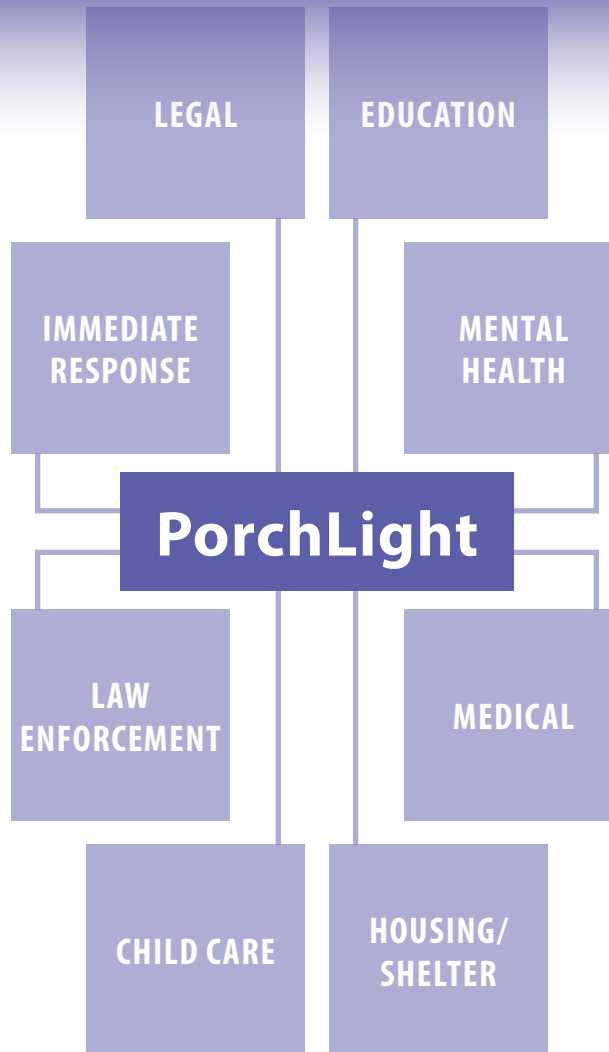

Why PorchLight?

If a person is assaulted in front of their children, or is otherwise the victim of violence, the family is referred to many agencies in the community to receive services to begin healing. PorchLight brings services together in one location, minimizing the travel, applications, number of times a person must tell their story, time off work, and child care needs. There does not need to be a criminal case to use these services, and all services are at no cost to the victim or survivor.

About the Center

PorchLight, a Family Justice Center serves Jefferson and Gilpin counties. More than 75 partner agencies work together to provide coordinated services for victims and survivors of violence. By housing a multi-disciplinary team of professionals under one roof and coordinating activities across each agency, we can more effectively serve victims and survivors of sexual assault, family violence, elder abuse, child abuse, at-risk individual abuse and human trafficking.

“Our Family Justice Center is a warm and welcoming place where a community of service providers come together to help victims, survivors and their children receive critical services—all in one location.”

~ Candace Cooledge, Executive Director

“I didn’t want to have to tell my story a million times... to have it all in one place would be amazing.”

~ Survivor